

AKT is a multi-million pound, six-year collaboration between research groups at the Universities of Aberdeen, Edinburgh, Sheffield, Southampton and The Open University

The AKT Project aims to develop and extend a range of technologies providing integrated methods and services for the capture, modelling, publishing, reuse and management of knowledge

www.aktors.org